Phase 0: Introduction

Good morning / Good afternoon / Good evening!

Thank you so much for your availability and for dedicating some of your time to us. We are students from the Polytechnic University of Turin (Politecnico di Torino), and we are carrying out a university project to explore how daily life changes during retirement and to better understand the habits, rhythms, and moments of a typical day in your life.

We want to reassure you right away: this is absolutely not an exam or an evaluation. There are no right or wrong answers. We are only here to listen and learn from your perspective and direct experience.

The interview will last about 20–30 minutes. We kindly ask for your permission to audio-record our conversation simply for convenience, so that we do not have to take continuous notes and can listen to you with our full attention. All collected data will be kept strictly anonymous and used exclusively for academic purposes within this study project. Naturally, feel free to skip any question or stop at any time if you prefer. Do you have any questions or doubts before we begin?

Phase 1: Background and Context (5–6 min)

1. "To get started, would you like to tell me a little about yourself and describe what a typical day looks like for you, from morning to evening?"
    - Follow-up: "What do you usually like to do during the week, or is there nothing in particular?"
2. "Has your daily life changed compared to previous stages of your life, or does it feel pretty much the same?"
    - Follow-up (if the answer is yes): "If it has changed, in what ways?"

Phase 2: In-Depth Exploration: Relationships and Self-Care (9–13 min)

3. "How are your social interactions usually structured during the week (if any), between phone calls, face-to-face meetups, or time spent on your own?"
    - Follow-up: "How do you feel about the amount of time you spend with others? Would you like to tell us more about that?"
4. "Thinking about your daily habits—such as meals, physical activity, or rest—how do you usually organize your week?"
    - Follow-up (only if appointments or medical treatments are mentioned): "How do you keep track of schedules or deadlines? Do you use reminders, or do you rely on memory?"
    - Follow-ups (if not brought up naturally):

        - "How are you sleeping lately? Is there anything that helps you sleep well, or nothing in particular? Is there anything that disturbs your sleep, or nothing in particular?"
        - "How do you usually decide what to eat on a typical day? Is it something you think about a lot, or not particularly?"
        - Follow-up: "What factors do you take into account when choosing what to eat?"
        - "Do you usually manage to stay physically active? Is there anything that makes it easier? Is there anything that makes it harder? Or nothing in particular?"
5. "How do you feel about your home and the neighborhood you live in?"
    - Follow-up: "Is there anything you particularly appreciate? Anything you find inconvenient? Or neither?"

Phase 3: Obstacles, Setbacks, and Tools (Clarifications & Failures) (7–9 min)

6. "If you happen to have a bad day, a worry, or a minor practical hitch, what do you usually do to handle it? Who or what do you turn to?"
    - Follow-up: "Can you think of a recent situation where you had to solve a minor issue like that?"
7. "On the flip side, when good news or a particularly pleasant moment comes up during the week, what do you like to do?"
8. "Would you mind telling me about the last time you used your phone, computer, or an app to get something practical done or look up information (for example, local services, timetables, events)? How did it go?"

- Follow-up (if difficulties/friction arise): "Was there any unclear step or something that got you stuck? How did you resolve it?"

Phase 4: Reflections and Wrap-up (3–4 min)

9. "Looking back on your overall experience as a retiree, what aspects of your current life do you find most rewarding, and which ones, if any, do you find most challenging?"
10. "Is there anything else regarding your daily routine or well-being that we haven't touched on, but that you think is important for us to know?"

- Formal thank-you and closing.

Thank you so very much for your time, your kindness, and for sharing your experience with us: your insights will be invaluable for our university project. Thank you once again, and have a wonderful evening!
